

Appendix One: The proportion of people who were sentenced to imprisonment and immediately released as they had served sufficient time in remand custody to satisfy the requirements of the sentence imposed, broken down by sentencing court, month and offence category.

Table notes:

- Corrections manages people on sentences and orders at the direction of the Courts and the New Zealand Parole Board. Corrections does not determine whether a person is sentenced to prison or the length of their sentence and does not determine whether someone is remanded in custody, or the length of time they are on remand.
- Categories below relate to the offence category under the Criminal Procedure Act 2011 for the most serious offence. <https://www.justice.govt.nz/about/lawyers-and-service-providers/criminal-procedure-act/offence-categories-and-types-of-trials/>. Category One offences are excluded as these offences are not punishable with a term of imprisonment.
- “-“ represents no sentences to imprisonment for the corresponding category, court and month. “0” represents zero sentences resulting in a time-served release.
- Figures relating to recent court matters may have potential to change where systems for recording this information are checked and updated for accuracy.
- Careful consideration is needed when comparing any figures by month or between different courts, due to the low number of court appearances in some courts.
