

WPQ 4130 (2026)

Appendix one: The number of women on remand who were subsequently released without a sentence, for each quarter since 1 January 2024

Table notes:

- Figures provided in the table below include instances where women on remand have been released at the end of each quarter who:
 - no longer had any active charges.
 - had a community sentence imposed.
 - were not sentenced to imprisonment for any charges that were active at the time they were in prison on remand.
- Figures provided in the table below do not include instances where women on remand have been released at the end of each quarter and had:
 - pending charges as at 31 December 2025, where their time on remand could still be applied to a possible sentence of imprisonment.
 - their time on remand applied to a sentence of imprisonment which was imposed at a later stage, following their release from remand.
