Notes:

- Data extracted 29 April 2026
- ARC is Aged Residential Care
- This data is from Health New Zealand's Quarterly Survey of aged care providers. Providers are asked to report on all beds that are certified for aged residential care at the end of each quarter.
- When a provider does not respond, the result from the previous quarter is used.

- Dual service beds can be used for rest home or ARC hospital clients.
- The 'Other' category is when a provider reports that its beds are for categories of residents other than main long-term ARC clients, for example for younger disabled residents, respite clients and retirement village residents who are not needing long-term ARC.
