

Appendix One: Number of people released from sentences of imprisonment, between the dates of 1 October and 14 October inclusive, in each of the four years from 2021 to 2024

Year	Releases
2021	233
2022	190
2023	219
2024	282

Note for table: the above table includes all individuals who have been released from:

- a sentence two years or less who were released at statutory release date after serving half their sentence
- a sentence over two years who were granted parole by the New Zealand Parole Board, either for the first time or after being previously released and subject to recall
- a sentence over two years who were released at their statutory release date either as their first release or after being previously released and subject to recall
- an indeterminate sentence, for example life imprisonment or preventive detention, who were granted parole by the New Zealand Parole Board, either for the first time or after being previously released and subject to recall