Note: This table includes only judicially commissioned research, not other judicially ordered work such as draft statements of issues. For commissions involving more than one person, the claims are counted for each member of staff and/or contractor separately. If a claim is researched by the same member of staff/contractor in more than one project in a given year, it is counted only once. Commissions spanning more than one year are counted in each year. Years in which researchers were not employed as staff researchers or contracted for research purposes are blanked.
